Established in 1942, NIBCO strengthened its position as a valve manufacturer in Nacogdoches, Texas by building a new facility for bronze valves. Its first and primary customer was the United States Navy where NIBCO valves were used in the vast majority of submarines built for WWII. The original building was 10,000 square feet and housed 32 employees.

For the next 51 years, NIBCO continued to grow its commercial and residential valve business adding buildings for assembly and warehousing, and a new state-of-the-art automatic foundry totaling over 225,000 square feet. During 1976-2000, new manufacturing processes increased production of multi-turn and ball valves to 16 million pounds annually.

At the beginning of the 21st century, NIBCO began its lean journey while investing heavily in new technology, including $15 million in cellular manufacturing and core making, while adding cast fitting production. In 2012, NIBCO won the prestigious American Foundry Society’s Millionaires Safety Award for 2 million hours worked without lost time for injury and was named “Metalcaster of the Year” by Modern Casting Magazine in 2013.

Today, the plant serves a global market with all products meeting high industry standards and codes. Every valve made in Nacogdoches is made with pride by the associates who work there, including four generations of family, and a staggering 39% of associates who have been with the company for 25 years or longer.

Nacogdoches associates positively impact community organizations and events as active participants in CASA of Deep East Texas, United Way, Glory Gang, Solid Foundation and Leadership Nacogdoches, just to name a few.

NIBCO is proud of its history and looks forward to strengthening its profound commitment to the community.

When we come together for a common goal, we can achieve uncommon results. We at R&K Distributors salute The Nacogdoches Chamber of Commerce for striving for a better community.

The late Gary Justice was General Manager for R&K Distributors, Inc. and an active Nacogdoches County Chamber of Commerce board member from 2000 to 2006, serving as chair of the executive committee from 2004 to 2005. The theme he chose for his year at the helm was “An Attitude of Gratitude.” After his death in 2010, the Nacogdoches County Chamber of Commerce named its annual Business Excellence Awards after Gary to commemorate the man many considered “the rock” that kept the Chamber focused and successful.
ANNUAL HONORS

Gary Justice Business Excellence Award winners are named each year by the Nacogdoches County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and honored at the Annual Meeting and Membership Banquet. Honorees are proven leaders in their industries and have positively impacted the business community.

Texas has a rich and storied history with deep roots in Nacogdoches. Nacogdoches — the oldest town in Texas — is named for the Caddo family of Indians who once occupied the area.

Caddo Indians occupied the Nacogdoches area as early as 1200 A.D., settling along Lanana and Banita creeks, names given to these streams later by Spanish settlers. The Caddo lived in huts made of limbs lashed together and covered with grass. They gathered the natural bounty of East Texas’ forests and streams and established elaborate trade relationships with other Indians.

Nacogdoches remained a Caddo Indian settlement until 1716. At that time Domingo Ramón established five religious missions and a military presidio in East Texas, including Nuestra Señora de Guadalupe de los Nacogdoches del Pilar. That was the first European activity in the area, but a mission was not a town — it was a church. The mission struggled until strengthened by the Marqués de Aguayo in 1721, but even then it endured more than prospered.

The “town” of Nacogdoches was established after the Spaniards decided that the French were no longer a threat and that maintaining the mission was far too costly. After France ceded claims to lands west of the Mississippi River to Spain in 1763, Spain’s New Regulation of the Presidios required all settlers and priests in Eastern Texas to withdraw to San Antonio. Some were eager to escape the wilderness, but others had to be forced from their homes by soldiers.

Antonio Gil Y’Barbo, a prominent Spanish trader, emerged as the leader of the settlers and, in the spring of 1779, led a group back to Nacogdoches. Later that summer, Nacogdoches received designation from Spain as a pueblo, or town, thereby making it the first town in Texas. Y’Barbo was named Lt. Governor of the new town and established the rules and laws under which the city was governed. He laid out streets with the intersecting El Camino Real and El Calle del Norte as his central point.

On the main thoroughfare he built a stone house for use in his trading business. The house, or Old Stone Fort as it is called today, became a gateway from the United States to the vast Texas Frontier.

The Stone Fort provided a rallying place for Anglos when they arrived illegally before 1824, or legally after the new Mexican government permitted colonization. Here, volunteers gathered for service in the Texas Revolution, the Civil War, and even the Spanish American War. Efforts to seize Texas from Spain by Augustus Magee (1812) and James Long (1819) also headquartered here. In 1835, the Stone Fort was the central focus of the Battle of Nacogdoches.

“The Nacogdoches Chamber again proved its mettle in the challenging year that was 2020 by keeping the local community informed and equipped for responding to the difficulties imposed by a global pandemic.”

Harry’s Building Materials, Inc. has been Family owned and operated since 1955. Our Motto is “Nobody Beats Our Price With Our Service.”

We as a company strive to provide our customers in East Texas with quality building products with unparalleled service.

Education was a major issue facing the Republic of Texas when it was established in 1836. The citizens of Nacogdoches petitioned the new government for a charter to create Nacogdoches University and it was granted in 1845.

Like the rest of the South, Texas and Nacogdoches suffered during the Civil War and Reconstruction years, but by 1880 the town was booming.

Nacogdoches remained exclusively a farming community until the Houston, East & West Texas Railroad arrived in 1883. This helped to transform Nacogdoches into an industrial center as well. In 1923, the Texas legislature created Stephen F. Austin State Teachers College in Nacogdoches. Designated Stephen F. Austin State University in 1968, SFA remains the most significant economic driver in Nacogdoches’ development.

Today, the city of Nacogdoches flies nine flags to represent the countries that staked claims and the movements to establish a Republic of Texas, which have transformed the city throughout its history, including:

- France (1685-1689)
- Spain (1519-1821)
- Gutiérrez-Magee (1812-1813)
- Dr. James Long (1819-1821)
- Mexico (1821-1836)
- Fredonia Rebellion (1826-1827)
- Lone Star (1836-1846)
- Confederate Stars & Bars (1861-1865)
- United States of America (1846-1861, 1865-present)

WEEKENDS

Nacogdoches is a relaxing place to get away from it all, but don’t let the small-town atmosphere fool you. There’s always something going on, and some weekends your family may be hard-pressed to fit in all the activities. Here’s a month-by-month guide to the perfect Nacogdoches weekend.

January
Start your day off with a taste of history at the Old Fashioned Sweet Tooth Sugarcane event at the Durst-Taylor Historic House and Gardens, and then help cram the William R. Johnson Coliseum at a Lumberjacks or Ladyjacks basketball game.

February
It’s a date! Take in one of SFA’s many cultural events, including an intimate play by the School of Theatre in Kennedy Auditorium or a concert presented by the School of Music. Grab dinner downtown, and then stroll the brick streets and sip some fine wines at the annual Downtown Wine Swirl.

March
Nacogdoches really comes alive in the spring. Celebrate by perusing the fresh produce and hand-made treats at the Nacogdoches Farmers’ Market, and then spend a leisurely afternoon enjoying nature’s beauty along the Azalea Trail. Wrap up your perfect Saturday with a wild night at the Nacogdoches Pro Rodeo and Steer Show.

April
There’s a whole lot of beauty to behold around town this month. Bring the family for a full morning of fun activities and entertainment at the Farmers Market Spring Fling, then pick up a few hard-to-find, “Texas tough” plants at the SFA Spring Garden Gala.

May
During the first weekend of the month, enjoy authentic dishes from around the world at the Multicultural Fest at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Then take advantage of the mild mornings with a stroll along the Statue Trail, made up of nine statues throughout downtown and along Mound Street, where you will learn about influential people and events that helped shape the city’s history.

June
Summer starts scrumptiously with the Texas Blueberry Festival — the anchor event of a blueberry-sweet weekend full of activities in Nacogdoches! The Blueberry Bluegrass Concert in the Park sets a relaxing tone the night before in Festival Park. Downtown also plays host to the annual Juneteenth parade. As the temperature rises, keep the kids cool with a visit to Splash Kingdom Family Waterpark.

July
Beat the heat by taking in a free movie at the Judy B. McDonald Public Library, then enjoy some live theatre at the SFA School of Theatre’s SummerStage Festival. Make plans for a long weekend in Nacogdoches and celebrate Independence Day the old-fashioned way at Freedom Fest on July 4th in Festival Plaza.

September
It’s time for football, and at SFA that means it’s time for tailgating. Students, alumni and fans mingle around the Ag Pond before home games and then cram Homer Bryce Stadium to cheer for the Lumberjacks. If you’re looking for a more soothing sound, the Sandyland Bluegrass Reunion features traditional bluegrass and gospel music.

October
Fall means family-friendly fun in Nacogdoches. Enjoy the carnival rides, games, food and competitions at the Pineywoods Fair, and don’t miss the Ghosts of Millard’s Crossing, an annual event that finds a cast of spirits haunting the historic village, telling stories about their lives and handing out treats.

November
Enjoy a relaxing drive along the Fall Foliage Trail. Get in the spirit of the season at Holiday in the Pines, a shopping extravaganza sponsored by Nacogdoches Junior Forum, the International Fair Trade Market at Westminster Presbyterian Church, and Wassail Fest, where downtown merchants feature their best holiday brew.

December
Experience an Old Fashioned Christmas at Millard’s Crossing Historic Village. The Nine Flags Christmas Festival provides several weekends worth of activities, including a lighted parade downtown, a tour of homes and more. It’s a non-stop celebration of the season that offers something for every member of the family!
The Texas Blueberry Festival presented by Tipton Ford is a delightful day of fun for all ages! This year marks the 31st anniversary of the most delicious festival in the Lone Star State. As the only state-sanctioned blueberry festival in Texas, this annual event attracts more than 20,000 people to Nacogdoches’ historic downtown district.

Prime growing conditions make East Texas a choice blueberry-producing area, and the annual harvest peaks in early summer. In 1989, Nacogdoches residents Leon and Patsy Hallman coordinated community leaders and volunteers to plan an affordable, family-friendly event that highlights our local businesses and attractions, while celebrating and promoting the unique local industry. Today, downtown merchants, festival vendors and businesses all across the county participate in the celebration by offering blueberry-themed activities and specials all weekend long!

Thousands of pounds of fresh Texas-grown blueberries are sold right on site at the festival or you can opt for a free shuttle ride to a local blueberry farm for a pick-your-own experience.

Festival events include a booth where festival guests may personally thank first responders, veterans and elected officials for their service and sacrifices, a blueberry pancake breakfast, pet parade, car show, bounce park, blueberry pie eating contests, cooking demonstrations, a penny press with blueberry designs, The Blueberry Cupcake Battle, Running of the Blueberries 5K fun run, a 42 tournament, a washer pitching tournament and Pickin’ on the Square music jam sessions open to all. Enjoy live entertainment and tons of food, craft and product vendors that line the streets and Festival Park. To make the festival even sweeter, most of these events are free of charge!

Kick off your weekend on Friday evening in Festival Park at the Blueberry Bluegrass Concert in the Park, featuring traditional bluegrass music for the entire family. Bring your blanket! Free admission.

Proceeds benefit the Nacogdoches County Chamber’s various community and business development programs. Go to TexasBlueberryFestival.com for up-to-the-minute information.

“Thousands come to Nacogdoches for the Texas Blueberry Festival. For some, it’s a standing tradition. For others, it’s the first introduction to our town and local businesses.”

Ready to retire? Set within the rolling hills of Texas Forest Country, Nacogdoches offers Southern hospitality mixed with a rich history and a moderate climate.

Nacogdoches was one of the first three communities in Texas to be named a Certified Retirement Community. This state program recognizes communities considered exemplary in several areas, including housing, safety, working opportunities, healthcare services, transportation, continuing education, recreation, cultural events, sports, community services and spiritual enrichment.

Nacogdoches offers the services and activities retirees demand while retaining the hometown friendliness and natural beauty so many retirees desire. Close proximity to two of the South’s best bass fishing lakes — Sam Rayburn and Toledo Bend — makes Nacogdoches a prime recreation hotspot. Surrounded by abundant lakes and tall pine and hardwood forests, residents of Nacogdoches County have the opportunity to choose from an array of leisure, educational and recreational venues.

The Nacogdoches Economic Development Corporation is a powerful catalyst for economic growth, and we look forward to a brighter future for generations to come.

INAUGURAL MANUFACTURING DAY
This special event, held in February 2020 for high school juniors from Nacogdoches and Angelina Counties, presented students with the opportunity to have face-to-face conversations with representatives from over 25 manufacturers. Students learned about the manufacturing industry, what jobs are available and what products are manufactured in East Texas.
ECONOMY

With a combination of large businesses and a vibrant downtown shopping center, Nacogdoches boasts a thriving and diverse economy. The workforce is a dynamic compilation of college graduates, skilled laborers and dedicated citizens. Nacogdoches prides itself in the diversity of its business sizes, where entrepreneurs of all levels can succeed.

Businesses benefit from a well-trained workforce in the area. With over 65,000 county residents, and nearly 13,000 students enrolled at Stephen F. Austin State University, Nacogdoches County offers a highly diverse and well-educated workforce. More than 25% of residents hold a bachelor's degree or higher. More than 315,000 people reside within Nacogdoches and its five neighboring counties, with a median age of 30.6 in Nacogdoches County.

Nacogdoches continues to rank in the top Texas counties in agricultural production, with the poultry, cattle and timber industries having served as the foundation of the local agricultural economy for decades. Nacogdoches County ranks 2nd out of 254 Texas counties for chicken broilers, 3rd in egg and poultry production, and 3rd in blueberry crops.

Manufacturing plays a major role in our local economy, with plants producing a wide array of products, such as bronze valves, electric transformers, giant flanges, plastic containers, high-efficiency vehicle engines, customized luxury motor homes, heavy-duty trailers, poultry coops and animal food products. Education, healthcare and retail businesses complete the list of top employers in the area.

With the opening of NacSpace, an all-in-one digital service center, as well as some of the fastest internet speeds in the country, Nacogdoches is a place for tech sector companies and employees to escape the traffic and high costs of metro areas.

Stephen F. Austin State University plays an enormous part in the success of Nacogdoches. SFASU continues to make upgrades to the university campus, including a new athletic performance facility and several other innovative projects, demonstrating a commitment to lasting growth.

Nacogdoches Economic Development Corporation (NEDCO) works to bring new businesses and industries to the area and to help existing local businesses grow and prosper. EDUCATION

A major component of the quality of life here in Nacogdoches is a solid commitment to education. From kindergarten through college and beyond, learning opportunities abound!

Stephen F. Austin State University
The Stephen F. Austin State University community – students, faculty and alumni – create a path through which Nacogdoches connects to the rest of the world. This 100% independent university links a growing network of acclaimed leaders actively researching and partnering in projects with the potential to change the region, the state and the planet.

Top-quality programs and spirited traditions are a mainstay on SFA’s beautiful campus in the heart of the community. Recognized as a 2019-20 College of Distinction, SFA provides an innovative and flexible learning model that meets the changing needs of more than 12,600 students. SFA offers 82 undergraduate degrees, 41 master’s degrees, three doctoral programs and more than 120 areas of study taught by an outstanding faculty.

Working toward the goal of becoming the model of the new American university – one that is nimble, entrepreneurial, student-focused, regional and comprehensive – SFA continues to innovate in both course delivery and program options.

A new aviation sciences program will prepare students to take the Federal Aviation Administration’s private pilot airplane single-engine land practical exam, and the Department of Biology is expanding its programs and now offering courses in forensics.

SFA has launched a new partnership with Texas A&M University System’s RELLIS campus in Bryan to offer completer courses for the Bachelor of Science in Interdisciplinary Studies with an EC-6 concentration. The RELLIS campus provides a collaborative environment for multidisciplinary, multi-institutional teaching, research and workplace development, and this collaboration will help prepare future teachers to serve in schools across the state.

The Veterans Resource Center at SFA provides a space for veterans and dependents of veterans to network with members of the #1 ranked ROTC team in the state.

Outreach to the Nacogdoches community allows East Texas residents to enjoy SFA’s exciting athletic events, fine arts performances and lectures. Each year, students partner with residents and area organizations in The Big Event to show gratitude through community service. SFA Alumni

Nacogdoches Police Department
Within the City of Nacogdoches, the Nacogdoches Police Department (NPD) provides the best law enforcement protection possible by maintaining highly trained personnel through continual educational programs. Austin State University’s police department, and six police officers, a K9 officer, two civilian truancy officers, a sergeant and a chief on the Nacogdoches Independent School District’s force. The Nacogdoches City-County Consolidated Communication Center is located at the NPD and is the 911 public service answering point for all city and county residents.

One very important service of the NPD is the Life Saver Program, created to assist the Nacogdoches Treatment Center and Alzheimer’s Association. This program maintains a database of individuals who suffer from dementia and/or Alzheimer’s and allows the police department instant access to information for those individuals in case they become lost.

Nacogdoches Fire Department

Nacogdoches City Government
The City of Nacogdoches has a council/manager form of government. The elected city council members set the policies for the operation of the municipal government. The administrative responsibility rests with the city manager, who is appointed by the city council. Nacogdoches Memorial Health

Nacogdoches Memorial Hospital embraced the challenge of COVID-19 last year. During the most medically demanding time in our history, the front line workers who make this hospital the Miracle on Mound Street did everything in their power to become Miracle Workers on Mound Street. We’re proud of all our healthcare heroes.

Memorial has grown from simple beginnings as a 28-bed neighborhood hospital in 1928 to a 231-bed healthcare system serving all of Deep East Texas. As the region’s only Level III Trauma Center, Memorial also serves as the single largest charitable organization in Nacogdoches County, providing approximately $22 million a year in charity healthcare services to Nacogdoches citizens who qualify for assistance. This is required by the state legislative act that created the hospital district, and we at Memorial feel it is the right thing to do for our community.

We’re working hard to change the face of healthcare for every generation of every East Texas family, in good times and bad, from birth through geriatric care, from diagnosis to recovery. Our outstanding team combines compassion and kindness with the latest technology and advanced treatments to deliver the care you need, where you need it and when you need it most. Last year Memorial admitted 4,300 patients and saw just under 25,000 people in our ER. We provided almost 20,000 outpatient services and our Care First Clinics and partner physician offices reported more than 47,000 patient visits. We are proud to have touched the lives of our friends and neighbors so many times and in so many ways last year.

Since 1928 we have been one of the threads connecting families, friends and neighbors and making Nacogdoches a better place to live. That has always been our goal and it will continue to be our focus. We are Nacogdoches Memorial Health. Where people come first.

For a complete look at the Nacogdoches Memorial Health system, visit nacmem.org. Nacogdoches Memorial Hospital is located at 1204 Mound Street. For information, call 936/564-4611.

Choosing what’s best for your child starts here and now. At Nacogdoches Memorial Hospital, we believe in empowering women by providing information, supporting choices and offering a full scope of services in a comfortable, nurturing environment. The experienced team at our Women’s and Children’s Center collaborates to offer a specialized care plan, unique to each individual patient.

Since 1928 we have been one of the threads connecting families, friends and neighbors, making Nacogdoches a better place to live. We’ve been here for every generation of every East Texas family, from birth through geriatric care, from diagnosis to recovery.

We are Nacogdoches Memorial Hospital. Where people come first.
